

Light One Candle...

As we light the Hanukkah candles this year,
we hope that the light dispels the darkness we see all around us.

We invite you to light the candles as you might every year. This year, however, please consider dedicating your shamash (helper candle) to these issues by talking about them and exploring them using the resources listed below.

What is the memory that's valued so highly that we keep alive in that flame.

What's the commitment to those who have died when we cry out

"They've not died in vain."

We have come this far always believing that justice will somehow prevail.

This is the burden and this is the promise and this is why we will not fail.

"Light One Candle", Peter Yarow

Light One Candle...

As we light the Hanukkah candles this year,
we hope that the light dispels the darkness we see all around us.

We invite you to light the candles as you might every year. This year, however, please consider dedicating your shamash (helper candle) to these issues by talking about them and exploring them using the resources listed below.

What is the memory that's valued so highly that we keep alive in that flame.

What's the commitment to those who have died when we cry out

"They've not died in vain."

We have come this far always believing that justice will somehow prevail.

This is the burden and this is the promise and this is why we will not fail.

"Light One Candle", Peter Yarow

Light One Candle...

As we light the Hanukkah candles this year,
we hope that the light dispels the darkness we see all around us.

We invite you to light the candles as you might every year. This year, however, please consider dedicating your shamash (helper candle) to these issues by talking about them and exploring them using the resources listed below.

What is the memory that's valued so highly that we keep alive in that flame.

What's the commitment to those who have died when we cry out

"They've not died in vain."

We have come this far always believing that justice will somehow prevail.

This is the burden and this is the promise and this is why we will not fail.

"Light One Candle", Peter Yarow

"They've not died in vain."

We have come this far always believing that justice will somehow prevail.

This is the burden and this is the promise and this is why we will not fail.

Light One Candle...

As we light the Hanukkah candles this year,
we hope that the light dispels the darkness we see all around us.

We invite you to light the candles as you might every year. This year, however, please consider dedicating your shamash (helper candle) to these issues by talking about them and exploring them using the resources listed below.

What is the memory that's valued so highly that we keep alive in that flame.

What's the commitment to those who have died when we cry out

"They've not died in vain."

We have come this far always believing that justice will somehow prevail.

This is the burden and this is the promise and this is why we will not fail.

"Light One Candle", Peter Yarow

Light One Candle...

As we light the Hanukkah candles this year,
we hope that the light dispels the darkness we see all around us.

We invite you to light the candles as you might every year. This year, however, please consider dedicating your shamash (helper candle) to these issues by talking about them and exploring them using the resources listed below.

What is the memory that's valued so highly that we keep alive in that flame.

What's the commitment to those who have died when we cry out

"They've not died in vain."

We have come this far always believing that justice will somehow prevail.

This is the burden and this is the promise and this is why we will not fail.

"Light One Candle", Peter Yarow

Light One Candle...

As we light the Hanukkah candles this year,
we hope that the light dispels the darkness we see all around us.

We invite you to light the candles as you might every year. This year, however, please consider dedicating your shamash (helper candle) to these issues by talking about them and exploring them using the resources listed below.

What is the memory that's valued so highly that we keep alive in that flame.

What's the commitment to those who have died when we cry out

"They've not died in vain."

We have come this far always believing that justice will somehow prevail.

This is the burden and this is the promise and this is why we will not fail.

"Light One Candle", Peter Yarow

Light One Candle...

As we light the Hanukkah candles this year,
we hope that the light dispels the darkness we see all around us.

We invite you to light the candles as you might every year. This year, however, please consider dedicating your shamash (helper candle) to these issues by talking about them and exploring them using the resources listed below.

What is the memory that's valued so highly that we keep alive in that flame.

What's the commitment to those who have died when we cry out

"They've not died in vain."

We have come this far always believing that justice will somehow prevail.

This is the burden and this is the promise and this is why we will not fail.

"Light One Candle", Peter Yarow
